

GENERAL RULES OF CONDUCT

- The guide provides the subjects with information on the specific risks that exist in the environment in which the visit will take place and about the prevention and emergency measures adopted
- All visitors must comply with the operational directions and orders given by the guide, as well as with site signage
- All visitors must keep together with the visiting group
- All visitors must always move with the utmost caution and care, avoiding the use of mobile phones and paying particular attention to the possible presence of obstacles along the routes being travelled
- All visitors must only follow the authorised routes
- Engaging in behaviour that could cause danger is prohibited
- Avoid physical contact with the electrical components present at the site (electrical panels, extension cords, cable reels, etc.), as well as with any equipment that may be near the routes
- All visitors must respect the prohibition on access within off-limits areas
- It is strictly forbidden to remove or modify the safety and crowd protection devices and any other temporary work
- Smoking is prohibited
- The visitor must notify the guide of any unusual situation which could lead to someone not completing the visit
- The guide will inform all visitors about the evacuation procedure and assembly point
- It is forbidden to share or publish images or videos of the Chorus Life building site without the formal authorisation of COSTIM
- The visit can be cancelled automatically without having to provide a reason, in case work needs or other problems arise

THE VISITOR ACKNOWLEDGES THE NEED

- To be informed and aware about the risks present in the work areas
- To comply with the safety measures shown on the construction site signage
- To follow the instructions of their guide, only entering areas under their supervision, to not engage in behaviours contrary to health and safety provisions, or which in any case could endanger one's own safety or that of others, and not to move alone
- That the entire COSTIM Group - Impresa Percassi, Gualini, Elmet and GSM - each for their own areas of responsibility, are exempt from any civil and criminal liability for any physical and/or material damage to their person, including those relating to the risk of accidents/illness during the visit, and/or to their belongings that may derive from the visit
- To be aware of their responsibility for damages caused by their own misconduct, and in particular that the consequent compensation for any damage caused will be paid at their expense
- To be aware that inappropriate behaviour will lead to removal from the visit
- To have read and accepted in full what is reported in this document regarding the rules of access and remaining during the visit, which are aimed at protecting the safety of the visitor and staff